SINGAPORE – Relive the music of the 1960s and 1970s with a trip Down Memory Lane, a charity dinner show featuring artiste performances of that era.

A group of Catholic volunteers organised the show which will be held on Sunday Nov 29 at Suntec City.

The evening is a gathering of semi-retired musicians living all over the world.

Musicians featured include: Robert Fernando, Riem de Wolff (one half of the popular 1950s duo, The Blue Diamonds), Matthew Tan and the Mandarins, Rahimah Rahim, The Ferdinands of country rock band Gypsy, Paul Ponnudurai, and a reunion of Rufino Soliano, Horace Wee, and Terence De Souza from the RTS (Radio & Television Singapore) Combo who provided musical backing for both English and Chinese variety shows such as Talentime.

Hosted by Brian Richmond and Hamish Brown, the show has a youthful touch from Jack and Rai of EIC, Don Richmond, Hossan Leong, and Michelle Soliano.
