

References for Electricity Waste Infographic Poster

1. Abdullah, Z. (2018, May 5). Singapore's household electricity consumption up 17 per cent over past decade. The Straits Times. Retrieved from <https://www.straitstimes.com/singapore/singapores-household-electricity-consumption-up-17-per-cent-over-past-decade>
2. Energy Market Authority of Singapore. (2019, December 23). Piped Natural Gas and Liquefied Natural Gas. Retrieved from https://www.ema.gov.sg/Piped_Natural_Gas_and_Liquefied_Natural_Gas.aspx
3. Parfit, M. (n.d.). Future Power: Where Will the World Get Its Next Energy Fix? National Geographic. Retrieved from <https://www.nationalgeographic.com/environment/global-warming/powering-the-future/>
4. World Coal Association. (2012, April). Coal – Energy for Sustainable Development. Retrieved from <https://sustainabledevelopment.un.org/getWSDoc.php?id=996>
5. National Geographic. (n.d.). Non-renewable energy. Retrieved from <https://www.nationalgeographic.org/encyclopedia/non-renewable-energy/>
6. United Nations. (n.d.). Ensure access to affordable, reliable, sustainable and modern energy. Retrieved from <https://www.un.org/sustainabledevelopment/energy/>
7. United Nations. (2019, November 29). Is the world ready to end the coal era and embrace clean energy? Retrieved from <https://news.un.org/en/story/2019/11/1052271>
8. United Nations. (2019, November 29). Is the world ready to end the coal era and embrace clean energy? Retrieved from <https://news.un.org/en/story/2019/11/1052271>